

Sunset Desert Cactus Scene

To make it you will need:

A set of acrylic paints (the primary colors plus white should be enough. Tempera paint is okay if that's all you have)

A palette, or small cups to mix the paints in

Paintbrushes

A canvas, a canvas panel, or canvas paper (or another thick, durable paper)

A cup of water for washing brushes

Paper towels

A tablecloth or a "messy mat"

I explain most of the steps in detail during the video, but the one part I didn't show was creating my palette. You'll need to make a few shades of green and at least three sunset colors (pink, orange, yellow...). Have some white paint on hand as well for adding the finishing details to your cactuses.

Paint your sunset background first, then after it dries, paint your cactuses. The video goes into a lot more detail, and it lasts about 15 minutes.

Have fun!
